

Ashgrove Brisbane

Ashgrove is an inner suburb in the City of Brisbane in Queensland, Australia. It is located approximately 4 kilometres north-west of the Brisbane CBD.

Ashgrove is an upmarket, leafy residential suburb, characterised by its hilly terrain and characteristic Ashgrovian houses built in the early 20th century.

While many of the surrounding suburbs have seen an increase in the number of residential apartments built in the past decade, Ashgrove remains predominantly a suburb of detached single dwelling houses, with many old Queenslander homes in the area. It contains the localities of Dorrington and St Johns Wood.

Bus – Ashgrove is serviced by multiple council buses. Ashgrove is also a stop on the route of the cross-town Great Circle Line which links the four major shopping malls of Brisbane.

Cycling – Ashgrove contains two major bike shared paths via Ithaca and Enoggera Creeks which provide a pleasant, mostly flat, off-road and backstreets commuter route to the Royal Brisbane hospital and onwards to the City Centre via the inner northern bikeway. Much of the route winds through pleasant treed parklands.
