City of Randwick

Randwick is a suburb in the Eastern Suburbs of Sydney, in the state of New South Wales. Randwick is located 6 kilometres South-East of the Sydney central business district and is the administrative centre for the local government area of the City of Randwick. Randwick is part of the Eastern Suburbs region.

Randwick has a large number of Heritage listed buildings, giving this area of Sydney all of character. Randwick is primarily a residential area. The Randwick Racecourse takes up a large portion in the North-West corner of the suburb. The Prince of Wales Hospital, Royal Hospital for Women, Prince Henry Hospital and Sydney Children's Hospital are all located in Randwick. The 'Royal Randwick Shopping Center' and 'Coles Shopping Center' are located on Belmore Road. Coogee is close by, offering more shopping and good food services while enjoying the great view of the beach. Randwick's main entertainment district is The Spot, located in the suburb's South-East, which contains the Randwick Ritz cinema and numerous cafes and restaurants.

Randwick is currently only served by buses. The main bus corridor is Belmore Rd with buses to Bondi Junction, Burwood, Campsie, Coogee, Eastgardens, Maroubra, Sydney Airport and Sydney CBD.
