

Bentleigh

City of Glen Eira

Bentleigh is a suburb in Melbourne, Victoria 13 kms South-East of Melbourne's CBD. Its local government area is the City of Glen Eira.

Bentleigh is home to Alnutt Park, Victory Park, Halley Park, and Bentleigh Memorial Gardens. Centre Road is a strip shopping centre of over 250 retail businesses, with a focus on fresh food, continental delis, cake shops and cafes. There is also Patterson road shopping centre that has a cafe, two coffee shops, a Chinese restaurant, an Indian restaurant, a newsagent, a supermarket, a bakery, an organic green grocer, a fishmonger, a travel agent, a pizza shop, a nail technician, a violin maker, a remedial massage centre and three hairdressers.

The most known piece of artwork in Bentleigh is the wall of mosaics outside Patterson Station called 'Stationary Faces'.

Bentleigh has two railway stations, Bentleigh and Patterson; the former is the end of zone 1 on the Frankston train line. Bentleigh is also serviced by two bus services. The 703 is a SmartBus service which runs from Middle Brighton to Blackburn through Bentleigh's main shopping strip Centre Road. The 701 service starts from Bentleigh railway station and terminates at Oakleigh railway station.

Education;

There are three schools in the Bentleigh area, they are:

- Our Lady of the Sacred Heart College
- Bentleigh West Primary School
- St. Paul's Primary School

Sport;

Social Sporting Clubs in the Bentleigh area include:

Australian Rules Football, Netball, Cricket, Swimming and Tennis Clubs.

